SPECULATIVE STOCKS

New York, Nov. 25.—There was no change in speculative conditions at the opening of the stock market today, there being little demand for stocks from speculative interests, and wide movements were confined to a few issues.

Marine Preferred was again influenced by the expectation that a meeting will be held today or at some other close date to again discuss the sale of the British line, and that stock made a gain of a point to 1084.

There was the usual buying of Mexican Petroleum, which after advancing 114 dropped to 158. Steel Common opened at 93%, and then advanced to 100%, but soon lost this advance when a moderate supply appeared.

The railway stocks were influenced over the uncertainty over the government contral, and there was liquidation in a number of those issues. Southern Pacific, which opened up at $1.30%, yielded to 129%.

Baldwin was the most active of the steel industrials, declining 114 to 74%.

The wider reaction of the noon hour carried United States Steel down 1% from its best, while Marine Common and Marine Preferred lost $26.00 to 100.

Rails, shippings, steels and eils recorded added losses later. The closing was weak.
